

Online-Training - Interkulturelles Training (Deutsch - Indisch) - Basic (INT-CULT-BAS)

Short Description

The course "Working with Indian Colleagues - German-Indian Intercultural Training (basic)" aims to promote collaboration and understanding between Indian and German colleagues. It provides basic information about the country and its working methods, along with practical tips and tricks for collaboration. This course is designed for German colleagues.

Objectives

The training aims to lead to a better understanding of Indian culture and its working methods. Collaboration is promoted, and misunderstandings can be avoided. This course is a "Basic" course. If participants find the content interesting, they are welcome to deepen their knowledge in the "Advanced" course. This is structured into three training sessions. Participants are also welcome to start directly with the "Advanced" course.

Target Group

Siemens internal participants

Content

- Background information about the country and culture of India
- Focus on successful collaboration
- Guidance for successful collaboration
- Tips & tricks, practical advice

Prerequisites

no special requirements are necessary

Type

Online-Training

Duration

90 minutes

Language

de